Michael's Story

Michael had been homeless since he was 15 years old. Abandoned by his mother and rejected and abused by his father, Michael was homeless, learning how to survive at a vulnerable age. Forced to focus on where his next meal would come from and where to safely sleep at night, Michael's grades suffered and he was diagnosed with anxiety and depression by a school counselor.

Michael was referred to Build Futures by one of our clients. Build Futures was able to provide housing for Michael, clothing, furniture for his new room and employment with Goodwill. Michael graduated high school despite his difficult circumstances. Build Futures encouraged him to enroll in an associate degree program. Today, Michael is studying computer technology. He has maintained employment with Goodwill for over two years and has managed to save $3500 for his future.

Thanks to your generous donations, we were able to be there for Michael to provide housing and support not available from any other agency. Build Futures fills a gap in services and housing in Orange County for homeless 18-24 year olds. Without your help, these kids are left with nowhere to go. Please consider donating this year to Build Futures and help us keep these kids off the streets. Together, we can create hope and opportunity for these desperate young adults.
